Kittens All Alone, But Safe at CDHS

The story is the same, again and again – kitten is found all alone or with just one sibling, no momma, no other sibs. How they survive and how they come to be found is always a wonder. Kittens are found along the walking path, in a car engine, in a boat that was hauled from another city, in a parking lot – we've heard it all.

You would think that since they are so little, we should be able to just tuck the little buggers into a corner and they wouldn't take up much room. While it is true that the kitties are little, one or two little kitties fill up a whole kennel space and generally require extra care because they are usually sick with upper respiratory, worms, ear mites, ringworm, any number of afflictions.

The good news is that when they come to us little, if they are feral or skittish, they are pretty easily turned around and find that they love human attention and affection. Sometimes they just need a little extra time – getting petted or getting wrapped up in a blanket like a burrito for some snuggling. Thankfully most of them decide that liking people is easier than being scared and fighting back.

To open up more space and to provide kitties with a friend, if they are healthy we have been trying to combine pairs of single kittens into one kennel. Sometimes it is a perfect match, but sometimes these littles have an attitude and do not want a roommate. Soon enough all the solo kittens will be healthy and socialized and ready for adoption. Then we will be ready for more cats and kittens to fill those kennels. Surely there will be no shortage. 🐾

Tours and Thanks and Things

🐾 Thank you to MDU Resources Foundation for their $5,000 grant to help us fund Buddy's Bowl. Their support will help us fill the bowls of pets in need in our community.

🍷 Cheers to all our CDHS supporters who held Facebook fundraisers for birthdays and just because – Lexus Friedt, Alicia Marie, Candace Getz, Rr-bj Poppe, Jackie Rae Brenneise, Arlette V Rivera B, Sami Gene, LeeAnn Fox, Kendra Mehring, LeeAnn Fox, Kendra Mehring, Cherie Ellison, Mandie Windhorst, Andrea Stone, Kaylee Beckler, Jess Roll, and Jill Kautzman.

🐾 Thank you to Shiloh Christian School for holding a Bake Sale and donating to the pets at CDHS!

🍷 Thank you to Mrs. Lysne's amazing class of first grade students at Northridge Elementary! They collected a heaping pile of donations for CDHS and wrote stories about some of our adoptable pets, hoping to help them find homes. We are so touched that Mrs. Lysne and her class thought about our shelter pets and wanted to help.

🐾 Hats off to the Center-Stanton Wildcats! The amazing students, staff, admins, and community contributed a whopping $1,378 to help provide for food, care, and veterinary needs of the dogs and cats at CDHS. What an amazing gift!

🍷 Boy Scout Tyler Fried chose to help CDHS with his Eagle Scout Project. Tyler raised money for his project and then built a set of steps and some agility equipment for the shelter dogs. Some of our dogs do not know how to use steps so this will be a great training tool. Thank you to Tyler and his crew, who also brought bleach and treat donations, and will also be donating more than $900 from his fundraising efforts!

🐾 Every CDHS dog that goes home gets a bandana on their Adoption Day. Shelter staff swears that the dogs know what is happening when they come to put their bandanas on. They know they are going home! Shawn Detling and Darlene Fairaizl have been volunteering to make special adoption bandanas, making this tradition even more special for our shelter adoptees and their new families. We love this so much!

🍷 Thank you to our Buddy's Bowl Boosters! Runnings Bismarck, Runnings Mandan, KT Animal Supply, Walmart Mandan, Cash Wise, and Bennigans – we so appreciate your support as we work to help fill the bowls of pets in need!

🐾 Thank you to Angela Diane Photography! She donated her time to the Paw Prints fundraiser, worked as a vendor at Shaggy Shuffle, and supports other animal rescues in our area. What an animal lover and a fabulous photographer!

Shelter Report

By Sue Buchholz, Shelter Director

Maintaining Capacity for Care While Helping Many

There is definitely something in the air. This long-awaited spring and summer does much to lift the spirits, but it seems like a cloud is always lurking and we all feel it. COVID, illness, or the loss of loved ones, the economy, supply chain breakdowns, wars, mass shootings, etc. I could easily go on and on. We can each personalize it and add many things to this list, for there are many battles for all of us to fight every single day. Naturally, these things all trickle down and affect our pets as well. People have struggles we cannot understand and often that affects their abilities to care for their pets. Desperate people do desperate things, and we are seeing more and more pets being dumped. Our phone rings continually through the day, 10-20 calls, emails, and Facebook messages each day, asking us to take owned pets.

To put it simply, our shelter is bombarded. All other local rescues claim the same, and I am positive that is true. This past week CDHS received calls from animal rescues in Minot, Dickinson, and Jamestown asking if we had any room to take in animals. Twenty stray cats in Wishek. Dogs roaming on Standing Rock. Rescues and animal control officers are all reaching out to see if anyone has any space at the inn. I get it. And it is not a localized problem. In the past two weeks I have received email requests from animal shelters in Alabama, Pennsylvania, and Texas asking if we could accept any animals! We had to say no to all. I took a phone call from a man in Mandan that was concerned about some feral cats he has been feeding. I told him that truly feral cats do not do well in a confined shelter, and even if they could be tamed, that we had a list of cats (and dogs) waiting to come into the shelter. He said, "You have been saying that for 20 years." And he is not wrong. We absolutely have been saying this for years, for the simple reason that it is the truth. Every adoption means we have space to take in another, that's how it works. Thankfully adoptions continue, but often summer or school activities take first place, and our pace slows down a bit.

While we can throw together some temporary housing in urgent situations, we must always be mindful of something we call Capacity For Care. Every animal shelter encounters ringworm, parvo, upper respiratory infections, a laundry list of conditions we must watch for every day and be aware of when treating and caring for our animals. Depending on each situation pets must be isolated and contact with people and other animals must be limited. Besides the animals you see available for adoption we have many more animals in non-public areas that are on intake hold, being treated, monitored, or otherwise prepared for eventual adoption. The quality of care every animal at CDHS receives is very important to us and plays a factor in how many we can care for on any given day.

At CDHS we acknowledge that we have limitations in our housing capacity. Granted, to an extent we have to have 'rubber walls,' and emergencies have, more than once, required us to put wire kennels in offices, storage areas, and even the staff. It's like Jenga, animal shelter edition. Day in and day out this work is exhausting, never ending, heartwarming, and heartbreaking, and all that comes before noon. But we dearly love these animals, and we know we are providing a vital resource in our community. Our life saving work is important and we are a lucky few to have a thick enough hide to do it. On average we house 125 cats and dogs at our facility, plus the ones in foster homes. No matter how challenging things get in our own neighborhoods or around the world – we pledge to be here and do all we can for as many as we can. It has been said to make a change in the world you start in your own community. At CDHS we provide that positive change every single day, and we do it with the support of our dedicated donors. We are truly thankful for each and every one of you. 🐾

Summertime at CDHS

Mindfulness is the practice of purposely bringing one's attention in the present moment without evaluation, a skill one develops through meditation or other training. (Wikipedia). I became more aware about mindfulness when I recently purchased a new iPhone and an app on my phone reminded me to take a moment and breathe or take a moment and enjoy nature or the scenery on the screen. Mindfulness is something that can be done anytime, anywhere, but one special place to practice mindfulness is the shelter grounds at Central Dakota Humane Society. We had a vision a few years ago about an area between the administrative/cat building and our "shop" building and named it "The English Garden." A very artistic and visionary volunteer, Tana Pendergast, produced a plan and through arduous work and volunteer sweat we have a wonderful and beautiful area that gradually came to fruition. Volunteers and donors donated plants and bird baths and mulch. We have a sort of walking path that was created with steppingstones. There is a bench and a tree that will eventually provide shade and it is a beautiful area to sit and breath in the country air and if you are here at the right time of the year, you can smell the lilacs in full bloom. The grounds and lawns and trees at CDHS look great and with help from the rain, a group of dedicated volunteers who are willing to get their hands a little bit dirty, and our buildings and grounds employee, Neal Roth, things are looking spiffy around here. Ruth Borlaug spends many hours walking dogs, but she also takes a few hours each week to weed and mulch. An early June cleanup crew included board members Michelle & Mike Gayette, volunteers Bev Everett, Danny Selinger, Ray Utter, Kiel Skager, and our branch hauler, Tony Mason. This group made the grounds look great in just a few hours. We so appreciate their help and hard work. I often see the shelter dogs and the dog walkers taking a moment to just stop and smell the lilacs and enjoy the beautiful surroundings and practicing mindfulness. It makes my heart so happy to see those bright yellow dog walking vests worn by the dog walkers while they are exercising and socializing our crew of shelter dogs. The dog walkers remind me of busy bumble bees buzzing around, making sure to get everyone walked but often stopping to "smell the roses" with their walking buddies. Some even come every day to ensure the dogs get what they need. Ron Berndt, Ruth Borlaug, David Bosworth, Julie Hohbein, Jackie Bischof, Bev Everett, and Eileen Hannu walk hundreds of hours a year and in their own way are practicing mindfulness while exercising the pups. You are invited to come out to our beautiful shelter and grounds to enjoy the nature that is all around us, even if it is not to walk a dog or do yard work. Make this your special place to practice mindfulness. I guarantee you will feel calmer and more centered in no time at all! 🐾

Our Volunteers are Pawsome!

By Mandy Schaaf, Volunteer and Event Coordinator

Julie Hohbein is somewhat of a new volunteer with CDHS and has been volunteering as a dog walker for about four months. Julie said her favorite thing about the shelter and volunteering is how friendly all the staff and volunteers are and how welcome she has felt from day one. Julie has become a daily walker and CDHS is so lucky to have her helping our organization. She is so willing to pitch in wherever needed and has such a positive and giving attitude!

Julie's favorite past shelter animal was Tino, who is a beautiful, gentle Pitbull that came to CDHS shortly after Julie started volunteering. Julie had this to say about Tino, "Tino (now adopted) immediately grabbed my heart. He had such soulful eyes, and you could tell he just wanted to be loved up." Now Julie has a favorite shelter dog named Flaco. Julie said, "Now Flaco is one of my buddies. He sometimes gets a bad rap because he gets the zoomies in his kennel when people come to look, but it is just because he gets so excited. He calms down quickly, walks well, and sits very nicely for his treats."

You can tell Julie is an animal person as her favorite movie is "Marley and Me." She says she does have to watch it all by herself though because she sobs every time. (We feel you, Julie.)

Julie has not been volunteering long enough to know what her favorite CDHS fundraiser is, but we are inviting her into many of our activities because we know she is one of our people and will do well helping at any of our events!

Julie Hohbein

Julie does not have any of her own pets right now, but she did have two dogs that she adopted from CDHS.

Julie feels that the pets at CDHS are well cared for and loved by the staff and other volunteers. She fits right in because of her gentle and loving nature that she showers on the CDHS shelter pets. She makes a difference in the pets' lives at CDHS and makes life a little easier for the staff and other volunteers.

Newly retired, Julie loves the health benefits of getting out and walking the dogs. When she signed up to take the volunteer training, she told us it has been on her bucket list for a long time.

She said, "I just love the comradery of staff and volunteers and it warms my heart to see just how loved and well taken care of these animals are, especially when some of them have had a rough life before arriving here."

When Julie was asked what she would tell people who are thinking of volunteering at CDHS she said, "There are MANY ways to be of assistance, so there should be something of interest for anyone looking for a way to help. Everything from spending time with the cats and dogs, fundraising, yard work – or even donating funds, treats, and the many other items that are needed." She added, "It is a great organization with the best people. If you are looking for something to do, this is definitely the place to come!"

We think so too Julie and we are so glad you came here! 🐾

Buddy's Bowl Is Helping Our Community

Buddy's Bowl is CDHS's program that helps fill the bowls of pets in need in our community. No one should have to give up their pet due to food insecurity. CDHS accepts public donations and works with several Buddy's Bowl Boosters who provide donations of pet food, discounted food, and monetary donations to help fill those bowls. Our Boosters include Runnings Bismarck, KT Animal Supply, Walmart Mandan, Runnings Mandan, Cashwise, and Bennigan's. Thank you!

We have several locations where folks can pick up food if they have a need. Our distribution partners include Ministry on the Margins, YMCA, Community Action, Adopt-A-Block, Heaven's Helpers Soup Café, Wilton Food Bank, and our newest partner, Dream Center. We are so thankful that these organizations work hard to help people and also allow us to join in and help the pets. 🐾

SHAGGY SHUFFLE

Shaggy Shuffle 2022 Was a Walk in The Park

The NEW Shaggy Shuffle was a hit! We moved the date of the event to June and moved the location of the event to Sertoma Park. We hoped that people would embrace the change and we were so happy that they did. The beautiful weather and great location brought in many new supporters who ate, took photos, purchased some treats, got pup's toenails trimmed, and tried out the agility course. We can't wait to see everyone back in 2023! Mark your calendars for June 20.

We had a great turnout of walkers and participants, and the vendors were top notch! Thank you to those who joined us to provide services to people and pets and provide donations to CDHS. A round of apaws to the following:

- Bed N Biscuit Ranch
- Healthy Dog Center
- Dakota Canine Massage and Treats
- Bismarck-Mandan Symphony Orchestra

FINNIGAN

Update on Finnigan FKA Whopper. He's living the best life here. He loves walkies and we try to go at least once a day. He also loves sunbathing and just hanging around his house. He's very loved and very spoiled.

– From Finnigan's family

MR. BILL

Mr. Bill is a great cat! He has adjusted very well. He loves to cuddle, be brushed and petted. He's shown no fear of anything and obviously loves people.

He runs from one end of the house to his cat tower and scratches only on his scratching posts, so far anyway. How did we get so lucky that our last three CDHS pets have been fantastic?! Thanks for letting us welcome him into our lives. We were missing a pet in the house more than we thought.

– From Mr. Bill's family

SOPHIE

Sophie (formerly "Rose") had a great first day. I think she's gonna like it here... Thanks, Central Dakota Humane Society, for all you guys did to get her ready for a family!

– From Sophie's family

RAJAH

Happy Easter! About two months ago we adopted Rajah. Oh my goodness, we had no idea how much we needed Queen Rajah in our lives. She acclimated very quickly. She is a snuggler and a kisser. We absolutely love and adore her.

You all did such an amazing job of identifying which cats would work with our family dynamic. My daughter has Down syndrome. You helped us narrow down our options to cats who just want to be loved and are willing to accept love. Cats that are relaxed and easy going. Thank you!

– From Rajah's family

GEORGE

It's been two years since George joined our family. When you look at him now, it is hard to believe he arrived at CDHS as a tiny, sick, orphaned kitten. We are so thankful for CDHS and his AMAZING foster mom for giving him a chance. We can't imagine life without this handsome boy!

– From George's family

ERNEST

An update on Ernest (formerly Enoch): Ernest is doing well and getting situated in our household. He loves to chase lasers and cuddle any time of day. Ernest has a knack to make himself cozy wherever (including workstations) and likes to take naps all day. He gets along well with our other kitty and is a great addition to our family. Thank you CDHS for helping us adopt Ernest.

– From Ernest's family

TAZ

An almost 3-year update on Taz. She's quite the lap cat and loves her little cave. She enjoys picking toys out of her toy box (she has a few favorites she always goes for) and playing.

– From Taz's family

If you have adopted from CDHS, please share your Tails of Success by sending a message to our Facebook page. We feature the updates every Sunday on Facebook.

Having a Blast on Band Night

CDHS volunteers, staff, and dogs always have a great time walking in the Band Night parade. This year's weather was perfect and our adoptable shelter dogs, along with some alumni dogs, walked with pride in our bright yellow "CDHS Volunteer Dog Walker" vests. We were hard to miss along the parade route. It was great to see all the families and friends out enjoying the many parade entries and the musical entertainment. Good stuff! 🐾

North Dakota Race for Rescues Coming Up Sept. 4-24

CDHS will once again be spearheading a virtual fundraiser that can involve all of the nearly 40 501(c)(3) rescues and shelters across the state. In 2021, 14 rescues signed up to participate and we are hoping for many more this year. Each rescue can promote the virtual '5K equivalent' walk/run/bike ride/swim/any activity to their supporters and the money will be divided up between all the participating organizations. An equation is used so that the money is divided fairly between the large and small rescues.

Not only is the event designed to raise funds, it is also a part of raising awareness about the great need for people to help animal rescues – and for the great need for EVERYONE to spay/neuter their pets so that North Dakota can get a handle on our vast stray and abandoned pet problem.

Keep watching for more information about North Dakota Race for Rescues, Follow the Facebook page, and get ready to get active and race to the rescue for the pets in need in North Dakota. When you complete your activity, we encourage you to send photos to the NDR4R Facebook page so we can all cheer for you and your efforts to help animals. 🐾
